SCOPE OF THIS CERTIFICATE

This certificate reflects the automated analysis output of the DistroShield model at the time of generation. It is a technical signal, not a legal determination, copyright opinion, or forensic identity claim. AI detection has inherent uncertainty. This document may be presented to a distributor, DSP, rights team, or dispute channel as third-party evidence of the technical analysis performed — including appeals against automated DSP takedowns and distributor delivery rejections. The Certificate ID and content hash above make it tamper-evident: recipients can verify at the URL below that the certificate has not been modified since issue.
